Imperial German Artillery Sword

Sharkskin and gold wire grip. Curved 'pipe-backed' blade, marked 'Eisenhauer' (= 'iron-cutter' indicating toughened blade). Black-painted steel scabbard with single fixed ring.

Probably private purchase Eickhorn or Coppel manufacture, but regimentally marked '26.A.3.60' on both sword and scabbard. Indicates 26th Field Artillery Regiment, which served in the 19th Infantry Division (a mainly Hanoverian organisation consistently rated as a first-class division by Allied intelligence sources).

Very good to excellent overall condition. $795 (will also consider equivalent trade for British or Australian militaria).
